Question 2

There seem to be very minor differences between my website when viewed through the lenses of different browsers. Really the only thing I can see when comparing Firefox and Google Chrome is minor differences in font; Firefox's font being slightly thicker and therefore generally darker.

(Left Firefox, Right Google Chrome)

Sorry! We found the following errors (1)

URI : coach_styles_txt.css

1	The @charset rule may only occur at the start of the style sheet. Please check that there are no spaces before it. <code>@charset "utf-8";</code>

I'm not sure how to fix this, there are no spaces before and I've tried just copying and pasting the text from the other style sheet in the folder?

Summary and Feedback

Course#: DGL 101 Section: DLU1I Assn#: 3 Student Name: Grace Boyd

It took me 6 hour(s) to complete the assignment. I have learned and feel good about 70 % of the skills covered in the Chapter. From the assignment work I learnt the following:

CSS Basics

The difficulties I encountered with this assignment:

Nothing more than anyone new to css/html would face; I had to cross reference the text more than a fair amount.

The sections / topics that I would like to review further:

Nothing really, I'd like to have more practice at it but I'm sure that's already a part of the class.

Other comments and suggestions:

I very concerned this is somehow the wrong project again although I think that would be insane considering the assignment brief referred to it as 'TSS Coaches Profile Page'. I'm using a hand me down 7th edition New Perspectives textbook, so the page numbers are a little wonky.
